

THE BOURBON NEWS.

SEMI-WEEKLY.

VOL. I.

PARIS, BOURBON COUNTY, KENTUCKY: FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1883.

NO. 102.

Will the floods never let up?
Mr. Sterling has a case of small-pox.
Stoner threatened to boom again yesterday.

Hinkston threatened us again a little yesterday.

Jowl and greens are scented in the near sweet future.

Thieves garnered a rich harvest during the flood in Cincinnati.

When Wiggins prophesied a storm, he must have meant a flood.

Horse and jack bills neatly and cheaply executed at this office.

Paris has another rag and iron house, in the Cigler property, on Pleasant street.

Fifty soiled doves got flooded out of house and home at Frankfort.

The Kentucky river was the highest during the flood than ever known.

The damage on the O & O. road by the flood, will require several days for repairs.

The Kentucky Central has stood the floods better than any other railroad in the State.

Mrs. Robert W. McClelland and Mrs. Rev. D. B. Pressley are both ill with pneumonia.

The water is waist deep in Jeffersonville, and Madisonville, Indiana, is wholly submerged.

In Louisville fifty-five squares are covered by water, on which are six of the principal churches.

Geo. Hicks and Caesar were sent up for two three years each for stealing in the Fayette Circuit Court.

E. H. Taylor & Co., of Frankfort, lost 600 barrels of whiskey and 1,600 bushels of mash, by the flood Tuesday.

Burglars stole $300 from the residence of Harry Maddox, at Poplar Grove, Owen county, a few nights ago.

Willis Rogers, father of Capt. Sam. Rogers, of Carlisle, died in Sharpsburg, last week at the age of 84 years.

It is understood the Lexington churches will require the deacons to use bell punches when taking up collections.

The railroad bridge over the Kentucky river at Frankfort had to be weighted down with flat cars loaded with stone.

Among the queer sights seen floating down the river at Louisville, was a barrel on which three geese were perched.

The depot of the Cincinnati Southern railroad floated away Tuesday. It was on a sand bank on the edge of a great lake.

John Gass was the successful applicant for the $1,000 loan made by the Building and Loan Association, Tuesday night.

About the best thing that could be done with Neal and Craft would be to put them in a tub and set them afloat in the Ohio River.

The Kentucky river swept thirteen out of eighteen houses away from the village of Brooklyn, and three from the vicinity of High Bridge.

The sight of a rainbow with a sack of gold at one end and a sack of silver at the other, would be an encouraging sight just now.

Lightning ought to strike all the legal talent employed in the Neal and Craft cases. Nearly two weeks have passed now and no trial yet.

The Louisville and Lexington railroad road has been under water for the distance of eight miles, from Frankfort South, during the flood.

John B. Draker, proprietor of the Grand Pacific Hotel, Chicago, has generously contributed $100 to the sufferers by the floods in Louisville.

Bud White, a fifteen-year-old colored boy, was sentenced to a term of two years in the penitentiary by the Garrard Circuit Court for house-breaking.

The "Old Reliable" K. C. road sent out quite a delegation of excursionists from here this morning on half fare tickets, to Covington, to view the flood.

The Hemingray Glass-works at Covington were damaged $2,500 worth on the same day, and this, too, in the face of a world of water almost surrounding the city.

The Democratic Committee of Nicholas county met last Monday and received the resignation of J. P. Norvell, as Chairman. Mr. Sol. Robertson was chosen to fill the vacancy.

The flood appears to be over.

John Nesbitt has moved Henry Patton's store room.

Ossian Edwards has succeeded the livery firm of Clark & Edwards.

The new nickel has already been counterfeited as a five dollar gold piece.

We gladly greet the dove and olive branch on this beautiful Spring morning.

Geo. Breeford lost 400 shocks of fodder and a large lot of walnut logs by the flood.

Geo. McDonald, of Flemingsburg, has taken charge of the St. Cloud Hotel, at Carlisle.

Avary, the great Louisville plow manufacturer, began life as a poor blacksmith in Winchester.

Col. Cooper, the temperance lecturer, has been on a protracted drunk at Carlisle for several days.

On Monday, in Maysville, the steamboats loaded passengers at the door of the Central Hotel.

Walker Thornton, an aged citizen of Harrison county, was adjudged a lunatic in Cynthiana Wednesday.

A Post-office called "Sister," has been established in Floyd county. The mails will all be she-males at that office.

Paris has a colored hook and ladder company. They put the ladders up in the trees and hook all the chickens off the roost.

The damage, at Lawrenceburg, Ind., caused by the high water, will reach $300,000. Nearly the entire town is under water.

Gen. Hazen's prediction that the winter would be mild has proved of great value to Kentucky. The hens have been laying industriously.

A jury was secured in Craft's case at Grayson, Thursday, and the court adjourned until this morning. Neal's case has been continued until next Monday.

A drunken man, on meeting a train coming over the Southern bridge at Cincinnati, jumped into the raging Ohio, and after floating around for half an hour, was rescued.

Out on Mr. Jason Walkers farm, near town, two negroes, brothers, began to fight in front of their mother's cabin door, when she dropped dead.—[Richmond Herald.]

Charlie Woods, of this precinct, while trying the beautiful experiment of pulling a loaded musket out of a wagon, muzzle-foremost, now has three less fingers to pull trigger with in the future.

George Maidwell, of Lexington, who shot Albert Lowenstein a few nights ago in Cincinnati for robbing him of a diamond worth $500, has given himself up, and is now out on a $1,000 bail bond.

The Chief of Police of Frankfort has issued an order for all thieves caught depreeding on the flood sufferers to be shot and dumped into the river. He says, "do this, and I'll be with you."

The Chesapeake and Ohio railway, having repaired the damage caused by the floods, has resumed running its through trains for Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York.

Twenty years ago Wednesday, Mrs. J. L. Robbins, of Flat Rock, presented her husband with a pair of valentines weighing 9½ and 10 pounds each. They are alive to-day, and kick the beam at 179½ and 180 pounds each.

The Chesapeake & O. R. R. Co. has decided to build a double track at a cost of $10,000,000. Work has already been commenced at three different points on the Eastern Division and at four points on the West Virginia Division. It will require about two years to complete it.

Howorth's Hibernica.
At the School of Arts last night, there was—or there is every night—a full house to witness the Grand Hibernica and Comedy Company.—[Sidney, Australia, Evening News.]

The Hibernica, which came to us endorsed by the Canadian press, meets every expectation and is fully up to the standard of excellence represented.—[Irish Canadian, Toronto.]

The scenery of the Old Land is admirably represented.—[Phila. Catholic Standard.]
Howorth's Grand Hibernica, which has exhibited in our city the past two evenings, has drawn the largest houses of the season, and better satisfied audiences than were present on these occasions have seldom left the Academy of Music. We have no hesitation in saying this is the best show of the kind, both in talent of the company and quality of scenery, that has ever visited Scranton.—[Scranton Republican, Feb. 19, 1879.]

SOCIETY SCINTILLATIONS.

A Georgia man broke his back with a sneeze.

Ignorance and selfishness are twin brothers.

Freddie and Lillie are in Cincinnati this week.

Bismarck once smoked twelve hours on a stretch.

Three of the new Senators are worth $20,000,000.

Iowa has her first colored lawyer, a young man from Chicago.

Injustice never can cure any evil greater than the evils it will produce.

She who can compose a cross baby is greater than she who composes books.

The people of the United States spend $800,000 a year for dolls for its little girls.

"A coffin," said the Irishman, "is a place where a man lives when he is dead."

At twenty years of age the will reigns, at thirty the wit, and at forty the judgment.

It costs just four dollars to swear four times in the lobby of the Newport post-office.

Flowers for the hair are worn just above the right ear and are arranged in sprays.

A stage innovation.—Modjeska having her own husband accompany her on her travels.

The boys in Cincinnati are singing: "Where Was Moses When the Light Went Out."

In reading the puffs on gravestones, we can only hope that the dead are not spoiled by gross flattery.

A Deaf mute has been arrested in New York for stealing two shirts. He will now have a hearing.

The Cincinnati theaters have been using the electric light since the gas works have been submerged.

Forrest Robertson has returned from college at Baltimore, and will make his home in this city in future.

Dr. Tanner is so much opposed to eating meat, he says that cold gravy contains the germs of total depravity.

Cincinnati has gone back to first principles and are burning candles and lamps until the high waters subside.

Drs. Kenney, Howard, Brooks, James Gass and Nathan Bayless have all been down to Covington to see the great flood.

Many of the cannons that were used during the war are now standing muzzle down as posts for national cemetery fences.

The whole universe of nature is a library, but a great many of the books are written in a language that no one has yet mastered.

Every man is occasionally, what he ought to be perpetually. Then, again, some are perpetually what they ought to be only occasionally.

Girls in the postal service of England only get $2.50 per week, and many refuse to marry, on the grounds that they cannot support husbands.

The difference between a cat and a comma is that one has claws at the end of the paws, and the other has the pause at the end of the clause.

A Minnesota farmer advertised that if the man who run off with his wife, two children and $500 would return the young ones, he might keep the money and wife.

A Minnesota family was snowed in, and they lived for thirteen days on a pair of old boots. There's nothing like getting something "to boot" in life's little transactions.

An Indiana wag who was going to hang, had too much good sense and refinement to bore an audience from the gallows. He simply smiled as he bowed, and said "I'll see you later," and the trap fell.

Mrs. Langtry likes Louisville better than any city she has visited in the United States. The reason, perhaps is, that the boys think that the time has arrived for them all to stand by each other.

A woman not more than four feet high was recently married to a man six feet three inches in height, in Illinois. She certainly could not have fallen in love with him. She must have climbed up into his affections.

All the talk about counts and barons serving as waiters in beer saloons is absurd. So long as a waiter attends to his work properly, and does not marry the proprietor's daughter, no one cares how many titles he may have.

The Democrats secured the passage of an amendment in the House, yesterday, reducing the revenue districts from 126 to eighty-two.

C. H. Bronson, Louisville, says: "I tried Brown's Iron Bitters to tone my system, and found it exactly what I wanted."
